

LifeMoxie!® Corporate Programs

Moxie! The Art of Taking Life by the Horns

Moxie: the determined, courageous, can-do, in the face of any circumstance, attitude that will give your employees the edge they need to give you the maximum contribution you want.

Expand the Sales Team: Essential Tools for Every Person in the Company

From the receptionist to the engineers, every employee needs to be a sales person for the Company. Give them the right skills and they will impact the bottom line as effectively as the sales team.

Communication Skills: Navigating Conflict to Shine with Confidence

Only when your employees speak up in meetings, express their opinions, and contribute in meetings will you get the best they have to offer.

Watch Me Shine! Becoming More Promotable

Requisite skills your employees need to survive, thrive and give you the best they have: presence, communication, and moxie.

Relentless Self-Promotion: Selling Yourself with Confidence and Conviction

Teach your employees the skills of promoting their ideas, their hard work and themselves and give your employees the edge to make a difference for you.

Ask! The Art of Asking with Confidence, Conviction, and Success

With the art of the ask, a little practice, and a dose of confidence, your employees will start getting what they need to do their best job.

Watch Us Soar! Engaging the Team with Mentoring Relationships

Encourage a culture of mentoring and watch your workforce start developing each other. Your company's succession planning depends on it.

Start Driving the Bus: The Art of Creating the Right Team

Creating a team is every employee's responsibility. Teach them the skills that will create the teams on which your bottom line depends.

Getting Unstuck: Using the Power of Goals to Move Teams Forward

Teach your employees how to set goals for their career, their team, and their department, and then show them how contributing to the companies goals will further their own.

Networking: The Indispensable Skill of Collaborating and Connecting

Help your employees learn the art of networking to further the goals of the company, their department and their own.