September 30, 2006

Dear Friends,

Please accept my warmest greetings as today's participants gather for the Women's Economic Power Day. New York is the fifth city to host this important National Economic Power tour and it is truly an honor for me to be given the opportunity to welcome everyone to this important venue.

Women's Economic Power Day will provide numerous resources that will enable attendees to create and maximize their economic power. True to its mission, the tour is a realization of the need to empower women to gain critical financial and economic skills. I do hope today's participants take full advantage of the information being provided and continue to also empower other women.

Once again welcome to New York City and I wish everyone continued success in all your endeavors.

Sincerely,

Charles E. Schumer
United States Senator
